CSE391 –Programming for the Internet

Assignment 1:

while working on this portfolio website, I used ChatGPT to help me during the development process. There were times when I was stuck or unsure about how to do something, so I turned to ChatGPT to get ideas, suggestions, and sometimes even code examples. However, I didn't just copied anything directly into my project. Whenever I got a piece of code or an idea from ChatGPT, I first tried to read it and understand what it was actually doing, then I made changes to it based on what I needed, and after that I implemented it into my work. Sometimes the code didn't even work the way I wanted, so I had to go back, figure out what was wrong, and fix it myself. The overall design choices, the structure of my pages, and the final code are things I personally worked on and can explain. I take full responsibility for everything I have submitted and I believe my work meets the academic integrity requirements of CSE391
